Record Attendance Expected as Interest in Natural Health Grows

Media Release 17 March 2010

More than 400 healthcare professionals, naturopaths, massage & beauty therapists, pharmacists and health food retailers have registered from around Australia and New Zealand to attend Australia's largest natural health event - the Natural Health Conference and Expo, which will take place from 29-30 April 2010 at Eagle Farm Race Course, Brisbane.

The Natural Health Conference and Expo, Australia's foremost trade event for the complementary healthcare industry is expected to attract more than 50 companies – already 43 exhibitors have confirmed their participation including Integria, InterClinical, Lifestyle Practitioner Academy, Natural Therapy Pages, Health World Metagenics & Natural Remedies Group.

The expo is Australia's only trade event which brings together all areas of natural health: natural medicines, supplements, energy medicine, functional foods, massage and yoga supplies, homoeopathic remedies, business and clinic services, magazines and publishers, industry associations and training providers.

"We feel very optimistic that Natural Health Conference and Expo will be a valuable event for both our exhibitors and visitors. We have continued to make subtle changes to the overall feel of the event, including new venues with off street parking, late night opening and for the first time we have introduced a Master Class – five experts in their fields sharing their expertise. It remains our priority to ensure we get the quality and quantity of visitors through the door – and we are well on track to have more than 700 delegates visit the expo" says Simon Cooper, MD, Interpoint Events, organizers of the event.

The event takes place over the 29-30 April 2010, Eagle Farm Race Course, Brisbane.
